ceiling height wardrobes without visible screws.

Aesthetic appeal all round:
the bottom guide profile is set back beneath the base panel - almost hiding it from view.

Perfectly finished runner profile:
self-adhesive decorative tapes available in 3 classy colours - champagne, white and black - can be used to match the profile's visible surface to the wardrobe interior for a look of harmony.

Experience unequalled user convenience

Impressive user convenience:
very low opening forces mean the doors are easily opened with a mere stroke of the hand. The new generation Silent System then slows the doors down particularly gently.

Experience unequalled user convenience

Practical convenience:

the centre door can be opened to the right and left. On closing, it is gently slowed down from either direction and silently pulled into the end position.

Install doors easily and securely

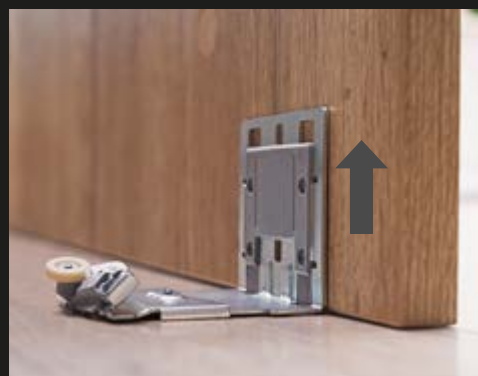

Silent System installation made easy: calculating the position of the Silent System with complicated formulae and accurately measuring everything out - that was yesterday. The Silent System elements simply screw into the end cap - job done!!

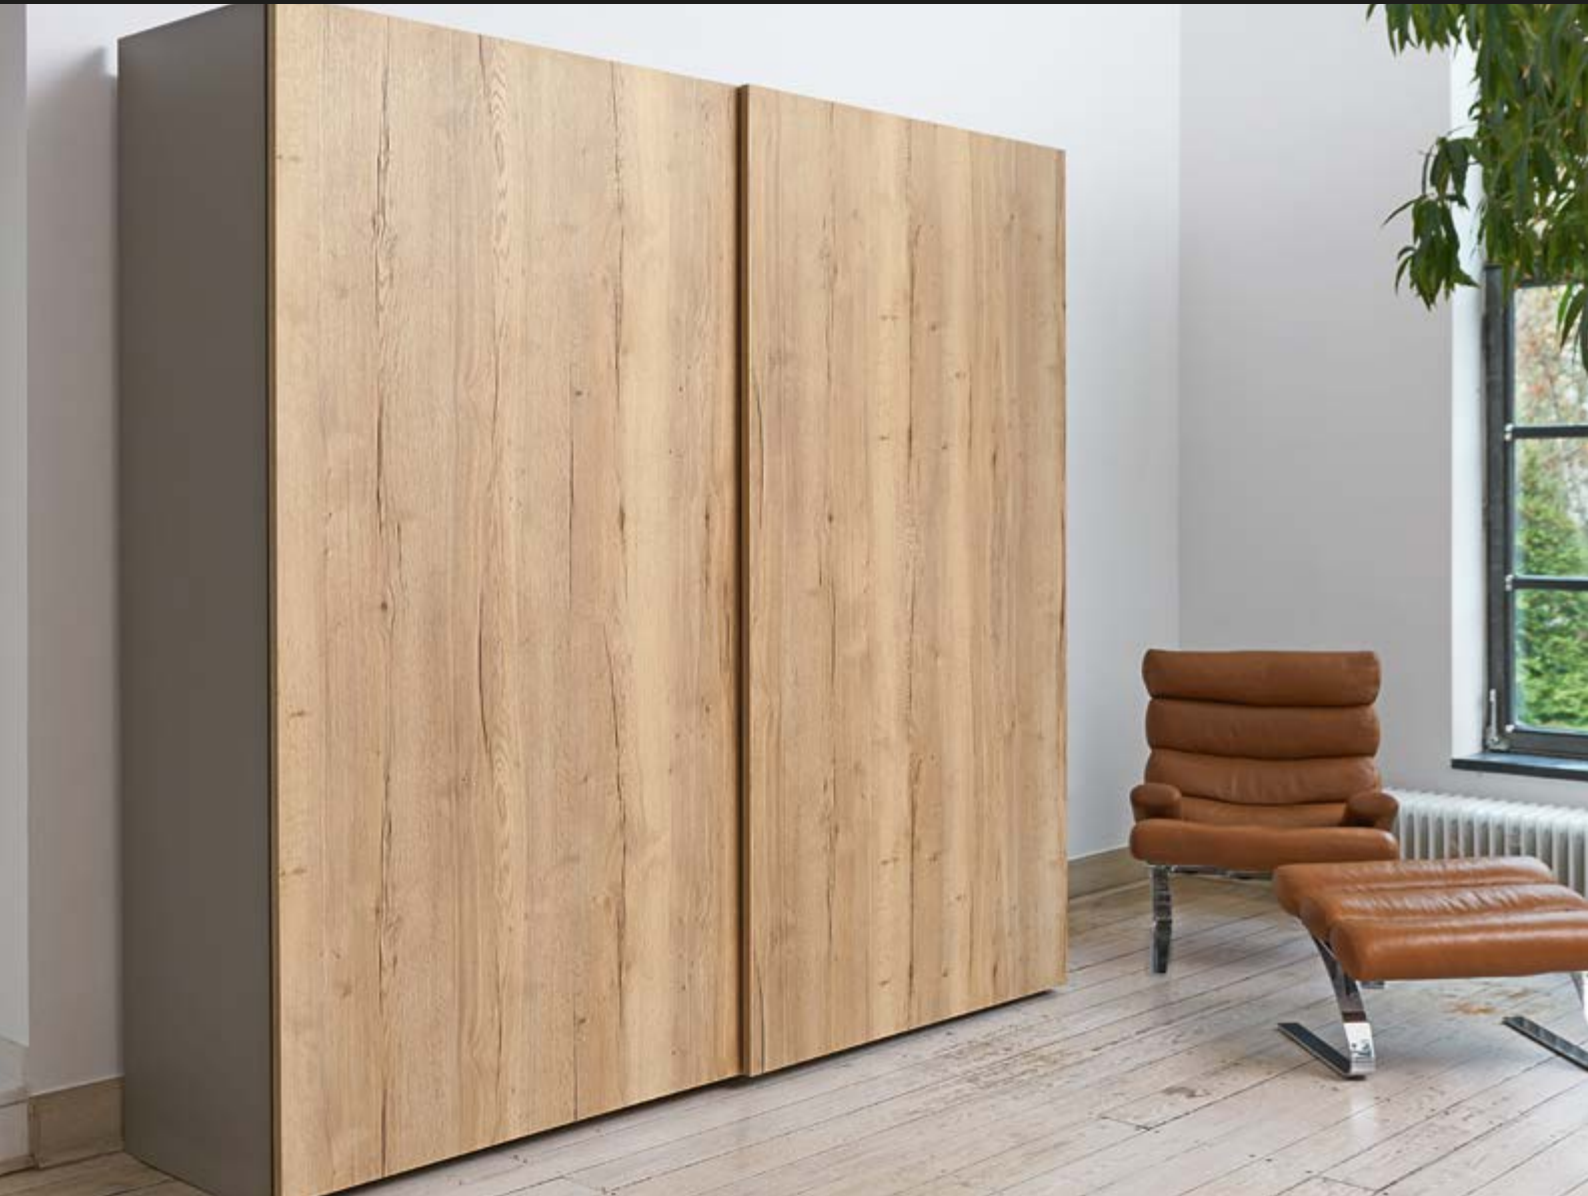

Correct installation guaranteed: the Silent System element can only be fitted in the end cap in the correct position. This reliably prevents any malfunctioning and damage to the system.

Incorrect installation ruled out: there is no need to activate the Silent System. After closing a door for the first time, Silent System automatically works correctly. Even if the door is installed on the wrong side of the Silent system element.

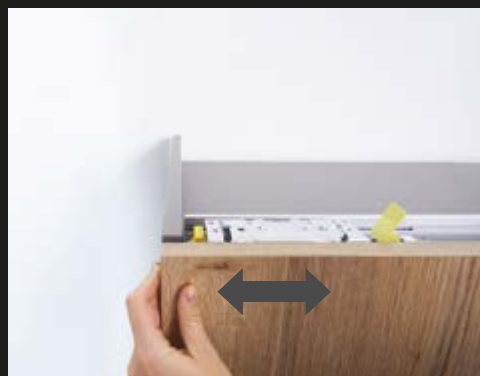

Innovative floor standing guard: before fitting them, the doors can be set down on the floor without having to worry about damaging them. The bottom guide components then glide up automatically.

Straightforward height adjustment: the quickest way to adjust sliding doors is when they are closed. Door height is conveniently adjusted from the front and gap alignment can be checked straight away. Alternatively, ceiling height constructions are adjusted from the side.

Perfect overlay adjustment: adjust door overlay by any amount with the door closed - for instantly visible results. Without any tools whatsoever.
